Policies and Procedures Handbook for Students in the Certificate Program

2023-2024
Certificate Program Academic Year

PURPOSE OF THE HANDBOOK

This handbook provides students in certificate and continuing education programs at the Gerald J. and Dorothy R. Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy (the Friedman School) with the rights, rules, and regulations of the program and the school. It describes the procedures, requirements, expectations, and recommended timing for completion of the Certificate and the consequences of non-compliance.

The student is responsible for knowing and complying with these procedures. The Policies and Procedures Handbook for Students in the Certificate Program acknowledgment online form has been emailed to you and you are required to complete the online form in advance of the first day of your Certificate course.

Policies and procedures governing the Certificate programs change periodically and will be bound by the policies and procedures in place during the time you are enrolled. If a student who has received a Certificate is admitted to the master's degree or doctoral program, or when a student who has withdrawn is readmitted, s/he will follow the policies and procedures for the program that are in effect at the time of first registration following the new admission. Students who take a leave of absence of 365 days or less will continue to follow the policies that were in effect when they entered the program. Students who take a leave of absence of more than 365 days will follow the policies that are in effect at the time of re-registration after the leave of absence.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF POLICY HANDBOOK

A requirement of your matriculation as a Certificate student at the Friedman School is to review and acknowledge receipt of this 2023-2024 Policies and Procedures Handbook for Students in the Certificate Program by completing this online acknowledgement form prior to the first day of classes. This action will ensure that you have access to your online Certificate course.

FRIEDMAN SCHOOL OF NUTRITION SCIENCE AND POLICY STANDARDS OF ACADEMIC AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

As a Friedman School student you are embarking on a program of study which requires of its members high standards of ethical conduct and honesty. It is expected that each student will make a personal commitment to abide by a standard of behavior that will establish a firm foundation for future professional conduct and respect for the academic environment of the Friedman School. This requires avoidance of any form of intellectual dishonesty as well as the demonstration of respect for the rights and well-being of others, including all students, faculty, staff, and other members of the Friedman School and Tufts University community.

Students are expected to avoid activities that harm the reputation of the University or its members. Students also may not engage in conduct that poses a danger or threat to others. Notwithstanding the above, legitimate and peaceful activities, including but not limited to protests of University policies, whether expressed on or off campus, and provided that such activities are lawful and do not interfere with normal University functions, shall not be deemed to be a breach of this code of conduct.

Academic Misconduct is defined as conduct which intentionally misrepresents the academic accomplishments of the student, or which jeopardizes the fair evaluation of another student's academic work. This includes, but is not limited to, the use of materials on any exam or assignment that are not permitted by the instructor; plagiarism (that is, copying the work of others or representing the work of others as your own); and any other acts or omissions which constitute a submission of someone else's work as your own without proper credit or reference. Allowing someone to make use of your work without attribution also constitutes academic misconduct, as does interfering with the work of another person.

Professional misconduct is defined as any activity which jeopardizes the rights and well-being of or poses a danger or threat to others.

The Friedman School code further imposes an obligation on each student to report any instances of academic misconduct or breach of professional conduct that are observed. In addition, students are bound by all policies of the University relating to academic and professional conduct, and are expected to comply with all university policies, local ordinances, and state and federal laws.

Formal action to address violations of the Standards of Academic and Professional Conduct, when deemed necessary by the Dean for Educational Affairs or their designee, will be taken in accordance with the procedures outlined in the Policies and Procedures Handbook. In addition, formal action may be taken by the Curriculum and Degrees Committee.

FRIEDMAN SCHOOL STUDENT HONOR CODE

1. By e-signing the acknowledgement of receipt of the Policies and Procedures Handbook, you agree to uphold the Friedman School's Standards of Academic and Professional Conduct. As a student, if you observe ethical (i.e., academic or professional) misconduct, in the interest of supporting these standards, you will take one or more of the following actions: Confront the individual(s) to receive an explanation and to gain satisfaction that there was no breach the Friedman School's Standards of Academic and Professional Conduct. Consult with the Dean for Educational Affairs or Program Director regarding your observations.
2. Submit a signed written report of the alleged infraction to the Dean for Educational Affairs or their designee. If unsure whether a course of conduct will violate the Friedman School's Standards of Academic and Professional Conduct, the student should discuss the proposed actions with the Dean for Educational Affairs, Program Director, or Assistant Dean of Student Affairs.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES RELEVANT TO ALL CERTIFICATE STUDENTS

I. Registration & Enrollment

A. Certificate Programs and 2023-2024 Course Offerings

Each Certificate program listed in the table below comprises of three Certificate courses (course subject is NUTC), which is a total of 9 semester hour units (SHUs). Additionally, students matriculated at the Friedman School in one of the Certificate programs below may enroll in our Friedman School MNSP Hybrid courses (course subject is NUTB), as well as select Boston campus in-person courses (course subject is NUTR) and use the NUTB and/or NUTR courses as a substitute for a Certificate course.

However, there is a tuition cost difference — NUTR and NUTB course have a higher tuition rate than Certificate courses (see Section II. A. Tuition for details). Additionally, Certificate students must fulfill any prerequisites for a NUTB or NUTR course in which they plan on enrolling in as a course substitute. No adjustment can be made to the instruction mode of a NUTR course; if it is scheduled as an in-person course it is not available as an online course to Certificate students.

Certificate students interested in using a combination of NUTC, NUTB, and/or NUTR courses toward their three courses to complete one of the Certificate programs listed in the table below may click here to review the NUTB Fall 2023 course offerings and select NUTR Fall 2023 course offerings. For Spring 2024 and Summer 2024 NUTB and NUTR course offerings, the Friedman School's Registrar will provide these course offering links with each semester's Registration Period information email communication.

To review the complete descriptions of all the Certificate (NUTC) courses offered in 2023-2024 in the Certificate Program, please visit: <https://nutrition.tufts.edu/academics/certificates/all-courses>.

B. Academic Calendar for Certificate Programs 2023-2024

The semester start and end dates for the Certificate Programs may vary slightly from the academic calendar for the residential and degree students. Certificate students should refer to the academic calendar (<https://nutrition.tufts.edu/academic-calendar?calendar=14&year=339>) specific to the Online Graduate Certificate Programs for the most up-to-date information about the important dates for each semester.

The syllabus for each course will be made available to students approximately two weeks prior to the start of classes.

Each semester is 14 weeks in total, 13 weeks of content, and a one-week final exam period. Please note not every course requires a final exam. Some instructors may choose to use the “Final Exam Week” as a deadline for your last assignment. Individual instructors may choose to modify this schedule as needed. Students should always refer to the specific details provided in each course syllabus.

C. Registration for New and Continuing Students

The Friedman School’s Registrar enrolls new students in their Certificate course for their first semester once their official acceptance is confirmed and their tuition deposit is received. After the first semester, Certificate students are responsible for self-enrolling in their Certificate course (or NUTB Hybrid or NUTR in-person) course during the Registration Period via SIS (<http://go.tufts.edu/sis>), Tufts University’s Student Information System. SIS is where students enroll in courses and can review their academic record and tuition bill (see Appendix 2, Tufts Systems Access Information).

Continuing students register themselves for classes in SIS during the assigned registration period.

If you need guidance on what course you should take, consult with your Academic Advisor (Program Director).

D. Limitations on Total Semester Hour Units Per Semester

Students are allowed to take one course per semester in the Certificate Program to which they were admitted. If a student wishes to take two certificate courses during the same semester, they may do so if they have either been accepted to a second Certificate Program or have permission of the Program Director.

E. Registration Deadlines and Penalties

Students must confirm their official acceptance and submit their $50 non-refundable tuition deposit by the date stated in their acceptance letter.

Tuition for each course is due in full prior to the first day of the semester in which the course is offered. A late fee (10% of bill up to $750) may be assessed if tuition has not been paid prior to the first day of the semester.

Certificate courses are not eligible for Friedman School alumni tuition waiver benefits.

F. Access to Online Courses

Students receive access to course sites up to three days prior to the course start. Students continue to have access to their courses throughout their program.

Students will not have access to course sites after they complete the program.

G. Full-Time, Half-Time, and Less than Half-Time Study

Since the Certificate Programs do not qualify for Federal Financial Aid, students are not affected by the full-time, half-time, less than half-time enrollment status designations.

H. Loan Deferment

Certificate students do not qualify for Federal student loan deferment.

I. Program Completion Time

Students have three years from their semester of acceptance to complete the Certificate Program (e.g., if you were admitted for the Fall 2023 semester you must complete your Certificate Program no later than the Summer 2026 semester). Failure to complete a program within three years will result in a student having to re-apply for admission. It should be noted that the cost of tuition may increase each year and students should take this into consideration.

Courses and programs may be subject to cancellation. In this event, students who defer their admissions to the Certificate Program or take a Leave of Absence during their Certificate Program will be given the option, upon their return, to take courses in other Certificate courses/Programs for which they qualify.

II. Cost of the Certificate

A. Tuition

Certificate students pay per course at the annual per-course rate set for this program by the Friedman School, unless otherwise stated. To review the tuition rate for NUTC, NUTB, and NUTR courses for the 2023-2024 academic year visit: <https://nutrition.tufts.edu/admissions/tuition-expenses-financial-aid> (the NUTC per course tuition rate is listed under the title, "Graduate Certificate Courses and Programs," and the NUTB and NUTR Per Course rate is the same and is listed in the "Other Fees for Academic Year 2023-2024 Per Course" section).

Certificate courses do not qualify for Federal Financial Aid, Tufts University, or the Friedman School Scholarships. Students who have employers paying for courses will be billed by the University personally and must arrange with their employers for reimbursement (please check with your employer for their requirements). The Friedman School will not bill employers.

Certificate courses are not eligible for the Friedman School alumni tuition waiver benefits.

B. Tuition Remission for Tufts University Employees

Certificate Program courses do qualify for the tuition remission benefits program for Tufts University employees: <https://access.tufts.edu/tuition-reimbursement-and-remission>. Please consult your supervisor and email any questions to Tufts Support Services (TSS) at: tss@tufts.edu.

III. Certificate Requirements

A. Timetable for Completion of the Certificate Program

Students are allowed to take as many courses as they want in order to meet their own interests, needs, and goals. Each Certificate Program is comprised of three courses, and each course is offered only once each year except for NUTC 0202: Principles of Nutrition Science. It takes a minimum of one year (summer, fall, spring semesters) to complete all three courses. Students have three years from their semester of acceptance to complete the Certificate Program before they would have to re-apply (e.g., if you were admitted for the Fall 2023 semester you must complete your Certificate Program no later than the Summer 2026 semester).

B. Requirements for Award of the Certificate

- Successfully complete three certificate courses, two of which must be within the same Certificate Program.
- Submit a Declaration of Completion online form.
- Complete an Exit Evaluation online form.

IV. Procedures Relating to Course Semester Hour Units and Course Requirements

A. Semester Hour Units

Each course offered in the Certificate Program is worth 3.0 course semester hour units (SHUs). In general, most courses at Tufts provide three semester hour units upon completion.

B. Grading

At the Friedman School, a grade of B– or above is considered passing. As a result, courses with a grade of C+ or lower are not counted toward the fulfillment of the Certificate Program requirements. However, such courses (with their grades) appear on the student's transcript and are counted in the student's cumulative grade point average (GPA). A student who takes a required Certificate course at the Friedman School with a grade of C+ or lower must repeat the course and pass it with a grade of B– or better to fulfill the requirement. The student will need to pay for the course tuition again in order to retake the course.

Students who fail an elective course may decide to take it again. If a student retakes an elective course and passes it, s/he receives semester hour units for the elective course; both grades are included in computation of the cumulative GPA, but the course's semester hour units is given only once.

A student who receives two grades of C+ or lower will be subject to dismissal upon action of the Curriculum and Degrees Committee based on the recommendations of the Academic Advisor (Program Director) and the Dean for Educational Affairs and will be so informed in writing. The student's Academic Advisor (Program Director) will be copied on this notification. Before a student is dismissed from the program by action of the Curriculum and Degrees Committee, the student, and the Academic Advisor (Program Director) will be informed of such action and given an opportunity to respond before action is taken.

C. Taking a Grade of Incomplete

A student who, due to extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete the work of a course by the end of the semester, may request permission from the instructor to take a grade of Incomplete ("I"). The decision to allow a grade of "I," with or without a reduction of grade for lateness, is at the discretion of the instructor.

If a grade of "I" is taken, the work must be completed, and a grade assigned by the end of the next semester. If the work is not submitted by this deadline, the course grade given will become an F.

If a student submits the outstanding coursework after this deadline, the instructor may do either of the following:

- refuse to accept the work as fulfilling the course requirements, in which case the grade remains F
- accept the work as fulfilling the course requirements, with or without a reduction of the grade, and submit a change of grade for the course

A student who wishes to make up coursework from an "I" that has turned to an F must first check with the instructor to be sure that the instructor will accept the late work and, if so, with or without a grade reduction.

D. Auditing Courses

Students cannot audit Certificate courses.

E. Dropping and Adding Courses

Students can drop a Certificate course by submitting an email request to the Friedman School's Registrar at michelle.frankfort@tufts.edu any time before the 33rd calendar day of the semester and the student refund schedule (see below H. Refunds) will be applied accordingly. Courses in the Certificate Program cannot be added once the semester instruction has begun. If a Certificate student is enrolled in a NUTB and/or NUTR course they must adhere to the add/drop deadlines for these courses, as well as the tuition refund schedule and associated refund amounts.

F. Withdrawal from Courses

If a student drops a course after the 33rd calendar day of the semester, it is considered a late drop and they will have a "W (Withdrawal)" on their transcript for the course. A grade of "W" does not affect the computation of a student's cumulative GPA. Students do not receive a refund for a course dropped after the 33rd calendar day of the semester. Students may withdraw ("W" (Withdrawal) is posted on the transcript) from a course at any time prior to the date by which all course requirements are to be completed (i.e., the last day of semester classes in which the course is taken). Withdrawing from a course requires a formal e-mail from the student to, and confirmation from, the Friedman School's Registrar, the Program Director of the Certificate program, the course instructor, and nutritioncertificates@tufts.edu prior to the last day of semester classes in which the course is taken.

G. Refunds

The refund schedule for a Certificate NUTC course is:

- DROP between the 1st-12th calendar day of semester = 100% refund for dropped course
- DROP between the 13th-19th calendar day of semester = 60% refund for dropped course
- DROP between the 20th-26th calendar day of semester = 40% refund for dropped course
- DROP between the 27th-33rd day of the semester = 20% refund for dropped course
- DROP after 33rd calendar day of the semester = 0% refund for dropped course

The refund schedule for an MNSP NUTB or on-campus NUTR course is:

- | | |
|-------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| • 1st-12th calendar day of the semester: | 80% tuition refund |
| • 13th-19th calendar day of the semester: | 60% tuition refund |
| • 20th-26th calendar day of the semester: | 40% tuition refund |
| • 27th-33rd calendar day of the semester: | 20% tuition refund |
| • Thereafter: | No refund |

H. Minimum Semester Hour Units for Certificate

To receive a Certificate from the Friedman School, students must complete a minimum of 9.0 semester hour units of coursework from among the Certificate Program course offerings. This may include any combination of three courses from the Certificate (NUTC) program, the MNSP Hybrid (NUTB) program and/or on-campus (NUTR) courses (see section I. Registration & Enrollment A. Certificate Programs and 2023-2024 Course Offerings for details).

V. Transferring Courses

A. Transfer of a Course into the Certificate Program/Course Exemptions

Besides Friedman School MNSP NUTB courses and on-campus NUTR courses, any courses taken outside of the Certificate Program are not transferrable into the Certificate Program. If a student has taken an exact course elsewhere and would like to petition for a waiver, they may do so. However, they will be required to take a course in one of the other Certificate Programs as a substitution.

B. Transfer of Certificate Semester Hour Units

Students must check with the specific programs, schools, or universities to which they are applying or enrolled in to find out their current policy for transferring semester hour units. This may entail providing a copy of your Certificate course syllabi and/or course description. If you are planning to apply to a Friedman School degree program, please email both your Academic Advisor (Program Director of the Certificate program) at nutritioncertificates@tufts.edu and the Friedman School Assistant Dean of Student Affairs at nutritionregistrar@tufts.edu to discuss your potential eligibility for a tuition credit if you are accepted into a degree program.

VI. Academic Standing

A. Grade Point Average

In each semester, Tufts University reports Grade Point Average (GPA) in two ways:

- Cumulative GPA reflects all numeric grades received since admission to the Certificate Program.
- Semester GPA reflects all numeric grades received in a given semester.

B. Maintaining Grade Point Average

A student who, in the judgment of the Program Director and the Office of Student Affairs, is failing to make satisfactory progress toward completion of the Certificate may be dismissed upon their recommendation. The student will be informed of such possible action and given an opportunity to respond before action is taken. Satisfactory academic progress for students meeting the requirements of the Certificate Program is defined as taking and passing each course with a grade of B– or better. Receiving less than a B– in more than one course will result in dismissal from the Certificate Program.

VII. Academic Integrity

Tufts holds its students strictly accountable for adherence to academic integrity. The consequences for violations can be severe. It is critical that you understand the requirements of ethical behavior and academic work and that you familiarize yourself with the academic integrity standards and policies. The Academic Integrity Policy is available online at: <https://students.tufts.edu/student-affairs/student-code-conduct/academic-integrity-resources> and provides a primer on ethical academic work and includes a description of computer ethics and the appropriate use of electronic resources. Alleged violations of these policies will be considered and addressed by the Dean for Educational Affairs. The consequences for violations can be severe. Tufts University has adopted the elective use of the TurnItIn.com anti-plagiarism program. Please note Turnitin has AI (e.g., ChatGPT) writing detection capabilities to help uphold academic integrity while ensuring that students are treated fairly. This program will be utilized where appropriate within the Friedman School Curriculum for all Programs and Certificates.

Appendix 3 – Computer Requirements for Certificate Students

Hardware Requirements

All Certificate courses require a reliable desktop or laptop computer and Internet connection. Recommendations for students who plan to purchase a new computer are available on the following Tufts website: <https://it.tufts.edu/it-computing/computers-labs-printing/computer-purchase-consultations>. Please note Certificate students are considered non-degree students and do not qualify for computer software or hardware purchasing discounts through Tufts University.

Software Requirements

Nearly any modern computer will be sufficient for the standard web browsing and word processing requirements for students taking Certificate courses. Certificate courses are administered via Tufts University's web-based learning management system called Canvas. To access Canvas via the web, it is recommended that students use the most current version of the Internet browsers: Firefox, Chrome, Safari, or Edge.

To learn more about Canvas please review the video training library: <https://sites.tufts.edu/canvas/on-demand-training-library/>

Some courses will require the use Tufts Zoom video conferencing (<https://tufts.zoom.us/>). Please check your syllabus or ask your instructor about course-specific technology requirements.

Appendix 4 – University Information Technology Policies

Information Technology Responsible Use Policy and Procedures for Responding to Digital Millennium Copyright Act Violations

The Tufts University Technology Services (TTS) Information Stewardship Responsible Use Policy is a valuable guideline by which faculty, staff and students can review the requirements of legal and ethical behavior within the University community when using a computer, computer system or the network.

Students should review and are responsible for the policy, which is located at <https://it.tufts.edu/ispol>.

This website includes the full Responsible Use Policy, explanations of key points within the policy, and an Overview of Users Rights and Responsibilities. You will also find explanations of the University's Security Incident Response and policies for key services such as E-mail, wireless, virus infection and network use.

In 1998 the US Congress passed into law the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA). This act is meant to protect the rights of owners of digital media. The DMCA is used by corporations to protect their software from piracy and unlawful duplication and can be used in the prosecution of persons violating the copyright of digital media, including music, movies, images, and online books.

Media Corporations have contracts with companies that search out computers on the Internet that are serving copyrighted media. If you are sharing files using programs such as Kazaa, Limewire, Gnutella and other popular "P2P" file sharing programs you may be discovered by one of these companies. If this occurs, a letter is sent to Tufts University and we are legally required to disable your connection to the Internet.

For more information visit: <https://it.tufts.edu/stusupp>.

Appendix 5 – Tufts University Americans with Disabilities Act/Section 504 Policy

Students with documented learning disabilities or other special needs can receive specific accommodations (such as extended time on tests), as needed. Students are required to submit their documentation, including test results, from a qualified professional.

For further details about receiving accommodations visit the Disability Services and Office of Equal website at: <https://oeo.tufts.edu/policies-procedures/accommodation>.

Appendix 6 – Tufts University Non-Discrimination Policy

Tufts prohibits discrimination against and harassment of any employee or any applicant for employment because of race, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, veteran status (special disabled veterans, disabled veterans and Vietnam-era veterans), or any other characteristic protected under applicable federal or state law. Appendix 8 – Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (“FERPA”) provides students certain rights with respect to their educational records. In general, these rights include:

- 1) The right to inspect and review education records (with certain limited exceptions) within 45 days of the day Tufts receives a student’s request for access. A student should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, identifying the specific records that the student wishes to inspect. The Registrar’s Office will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
- 2) The right to request the amendment of education records if the student believes they are inaccurate. Students should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, clearly identifying the records that the student wants to have amended and specifying the reasons the student believes those records to be inaccurate. The Registrar’s Office will notify the student of the University’s decision whether to amend the student’s records. If the University decides not to amend the student’s records, the Registrar’s Office will inform the student of the right to a hearing regarding the student’s request for amendment.
- 3) The right to require Tufts to obtain the student’s written consent before releasing personally identifiable information from the student’s education records unless an exception applies.

Definitions

For purposes of this policy a student is defined as someone who is (or someone who has) officially matriculated at the University, and who attends (or has attended) classes at Tufts. This definition does not include prospective students or applicants.

Education records are records relating to a student that are maintained by the University or by a party acting on its behalf, with some exceptions.

The following records are not considered education records:

- Records created by a school official as a personal memory aid (such as notes of a private telephone conversation).
- Records of the Tufts University Police Department which are maintained separately and solely for law enforcement purposes.
- Most records created and maintained by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist or other treatment purposes. Even though these records are not considered education records under FERPA, they may still be made available to students following completion of a HIPAA release form.
- Records pertaining to a former student other than those generated when that person was a student, such as alumni records.

Personally identifiable information includes a student's name, address or other information that would allow a student to be identified. FERPA generally prohibits the University from disclosing personally identifiable information from a student's education record without the student's consent unless the information has been designated as directory information or another exception applies.

Directory information consists of the following:

- Student's name
- Address (both local and permanent)
- Telephone number (local, cell and permanent)
- Date and place of birth
- Academic program (school, degree, major, minor)
- Enrollment status (dates of attendance, full-time/part-time status)
- Degrees, honors and awards received
- Participation in athletics and student activities
- Most recent educational institution attended
- E-mail address
- Photo

Privacy Blocks are available to students who wish to prevent the University from disclosing their directory information (in student directories and commencement programs, for example) by selecting the appropriate privacy settings through SIS. For additional information about privacy blocks, please contact Friedman School's Registrar.

Release of Your Records to Third Parties

Personally identifiable information in your records, except for directory information as discussed above, may not be given to third parties without your written consent, with the following exceptions:

- To Tufts officials such as employees and members of faculty and trustee committees who have a need to know or who are required to work with your records to carry out their duties.
- To officials of another education institution in which you seek to enroll. If your record is transferred, however, you will be entitled, upon request, to a copy of such records. This applies to other schools and colleges within the University and to institutions in which you may be cross-registered or enrolled at the University.
- To authorized representatives of the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local authorities responsible in connection with an audit or evaluation of federal or state supported education programs.
- To an individual or organization required to be informed in connection with your application or receipt of financial aid.
- To state and local officials to whom information is specifically required to be reported by state laws enacted prior to November 19, 1974.
- To appropriate parties in a health or safety emergency if necessary to protect your health or safety or that of another.
- In compliance with a subpoena, or in response to other legal action involving the student and the University.
- When the information is a record of a campus disciplinary proceeding. For students under the age of 21, the University may also inform parents about violations of any federal, state, or local law, or any University rule or policy that governs the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance.

Any request or authorization to allow material from your files to be shown to third parties should include: (1) a specification of the records to be disclosed; (2) the purpose of the disclosure; and (3) the party or class of parties to whom disclosure may be made. For additional information about authorizing disclosures from your education records, please contact the Registrar's Office. Please note that the University does not preserve students' education records in perpetuity. In fact, most records are not maintained for more than 7 years after a student's expected date of graduation.

Complaint Procedure

A student has the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Tufts to comply with the requirements of FERPA. A complaint must be submitted to the Department within 180 days of the date of the alleged violation or of the date that the student knew or reasonably should have known of the alleged violation. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA and accepts such complaints is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605.
