

June 15, 2021

Part time job in the Dietary Assessment Unit at the Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts University

Student needed for part time paid work in the Dietary Assessment Unit at the HNRCA, <https://hnrca.tufts.edu/cores/dietary-assessment-unit/> . This position would begin this summer and student would preferably be able to extend work at least through the Spring 2022 semester. This is a great opportunity for someone who wants exposure to dietary data collection methods. Responsibilities include administration of various diet assessment tools in multiple human nutrition studies, collection of dietary data, and data entry. A background in nutrition is preferred. Schedule may vary and may include some morning and evening hours. Some weekend hours will also be required. Work would average about 5-10 hours a week but could vary depending on unit's activity. If interested, please contact Cheryl Gilhooly at cheryl.gilhooly@tufts.edu for more information.

Preferred qualifications include: strong verbal communication skills, nutrition background